Forecast for Monday 14 Feb 2022

Weather: Overnight rain will give way to showers by the morning, these mainly across the Cairngorms, with the best of the sunshine towards the Perthshire hills and Ochils, with just the odd shower here during the afternoon. The showers will fall as snow above around 900 m, lowering to 500 m later.

Chance of cloud-free hill tops above 800m: 70%, becoming 40% for a time during the afternoon, and locally 10% over the Cairngorms.

Low Cloud and visibility: Locally extensive around 600 m over the Cairngorms, with patches further south and west at around 800 m. Becoming a little more extensive across the southern ranges in any showers during the afternoon and lowering to 600 m. Excellent visibilities for much of the time across the Perthshire hills and the Ochils.

Met Office Aberdeen Meteorologist's View

With good shelter from the Northwest Highland and Cairngorms, clouds should be well broken across the Perthshire, Angus and Ochil hills, with just the odd showers during the afternoon.

Forecast for Tuesday 15 Feb 2022

Weather: Outbreaks of sleet or snow will spread from the west before dawn, clearing to showers during the morning with the snow above around 400 m. Some sunshine in between the showers, with the best of this likely towards the Angus hills. The showers will largely die out during the evening.

Maximum wind: West 40 gusts 50 mph, slowly easing.

Chance of cloud-free hill tops above 800m: 30% becoming 80% later.

Low Cloud and visibility: A good deal of low cloud above 600 m in the west, but patchier above 800 m in the east. Cloud falling to lower slopes as the showers pass through. Good visibility between the showers. Clouds becoming patchy across all ranges during the evening.

Temperature: Glens: plus 1 rising to plus 6 Celsius
At 800m: Minus 2 Celsius
Freezing level: 200-400 m
